The other day, by chance, I told one of my daughters to mind her Ps and Qs, and right away she asked me where the expression may have come from, and I had to go back real far in my memory to recollect just what it did mean and from where the expression may have originated.

— CT —

As I recall, and there may be many other versions of the expression, but this was a Navy term, as are the terms "Beserk" or packing a "Wallop," "Skylarking," "Yankee" and being called a "logger head." These and dozens of other colorful expressions have been passed along by Navymen and are now a part of our everyday speech.

— CT —

When parents warn their children to "Mind their Ps and Qs," few would suspect that the phrase originated in the days when sailors bought their pints and quarts of sale on credit and their accounts were kept on a scoreboard bearing their names and the number of Ps and Qs consumed. Remaining sober, or minding ones Ps and Qs, became synonymous with being on good behavior and keeping a wary eye on the accounting scoreboard.

— CT —

The Vikings gave us "Beserk," a corruption of their word for bare of shirt. To prove his courage, a Viking warrior would take off his chain-mail shirt and fight without protection. It came to be viewed as a fit of irrational bravado.

— CT —

To pack a "Wallop" can be traced to a British Admiral of that name. Under Henry VIII, Admiral Wallop was dispatched to retaliate against the French for their burning of the City of Brighton, England. Wallop delivered a devastating blow to the French forces.

— CT —

"Skylarking" comes from a combination of the Anglo-Saxon word "Lac" meaning play and the inclination of young sailors to shirk work in favor of sliding down sailing lines.

— CT —

The nickname "Yankee" for U.S. citizens came from the practice of Dutch merchants calling American sea captains "Yankers," which was the Dutch word for a wrangler or someone who drove a hard bargain.

— CT —

At one time or another, most persons have had some sort of angry relationship with another, which has been dubbed "being at logger heads." Originally logger heads were implements used to spread hot pitch along deck-seams to weatherproof them. These tools had long wooden handles and metal heads and using them was tedious, back-breaking work. Sometimes men using these tools got into fights, which could turn to deadly battles. Thus a serious dispute is the impuication of the phrase being at "Logger Heads."

— CT —

Of course, a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but this is the way some phrases enter the language of our daily lives.

— CT —

Can you imagine it . . . Here it is October already? . . . In a couple of days it will be Thanksgiving, on to Christmas, the Rose Bowl and away we go into 1977 . . . I just cannot imagine all of the rush as we start to print the tickets for the Sierra Madre Firemen's 55th Annual Dance, to be held this year on December 11 . . . A big and I mean BIG named band will be furnished this year . . . Wait until you hear the announcement, we will fill La Salle High School to the brim . . . you had better believe it.

Community events each year include both fund-raisers, such as the upcoming luau and the annual spring garden tour, to benefit various worthwhile community projects, and events such as the Prayer Breakfast and Fourth of July open house which are presented as a part of the club's program of service to the community.

The club also participates in a number of regional and national educational and philanthropic programs as a member of the California and General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Membership in the club, which currently stands at 100 women of the community, is open to all women of Sierra Madre and vicinity who are interested in education, philanthropic endeavor and service to the community. Inquiries regarding the club's activities and membership are welcomed by the club president, Mrs. Maricle, 355-2678, or club membership chairman Mrs. Galen T. Pearson, 358-4996.

Sierra Madre Even For 2nd Quarter

Sierra Madre Taxable Sales dropped off $41,000 for the second quarter of 1976 over the year 1975 as a report was received this week from George R. Reilly, member of the California State Board of Equalization.

Taxable Sales for the second quarter of 1975 was recorded at $1,420,000, while this year's figures totaled $1,389,000 a drop of approximately four per cent; however total sales for the community showed an increase of close to $70,000 over the 1975 year for a total gain of approximately four per cent, making the total picture a break - even event, reported Reilly, for the City of Sierra Madre.

Reilly said that the rate of inflation declined for the fifth consecutive quarter with prices averaging only six per cent more than the same period last year. In dollars of constant value, taxable sales advanced 7.6 per cent.

For the third consecutive quarter, Reilly reported, sellers of durable goods outsold the nondurable. Transportation and building gained impressively. New car dealers were up a hefty 25.2 per cent over last year, accounting for one-tenth of all taxable sales. During the quarter, 300,774 new cars trucks were registered, an increase of 22.5 per cent.

Fifty Japanese Fire Chiefs Visit S.M. Fire Dept.

Fifty fire chiefs from various volunteer departments throughout Japan recently paid a visit to Sierra Madre Fire Department for a briefing on the operation of the local volunteer department.

The group is being hosted by the Los Angeles County and City Fire Departments for an updating and study of operating and fire fighting techniques. Since these men represented volunteer departments they felt they would benefit from a visit to a volunteer department. The County Fire Department contacted Chief Charles E. Brown and made arrangements for a visit here.

The group showed much interest in methods used for the summoning of firemen for a fire call and in the alerting system. Funding of the local operation and purchase of the equipment also was the topic of much questioning done through an interpreter.

The local department presented each chief with a 50th anniversary medallion as a souvenir of their visit.

Upon completion of the visit the representative of the group presented Chief Brown with a travel alarm clock in appreciation.

Exemption Still Available Under Some Conditions

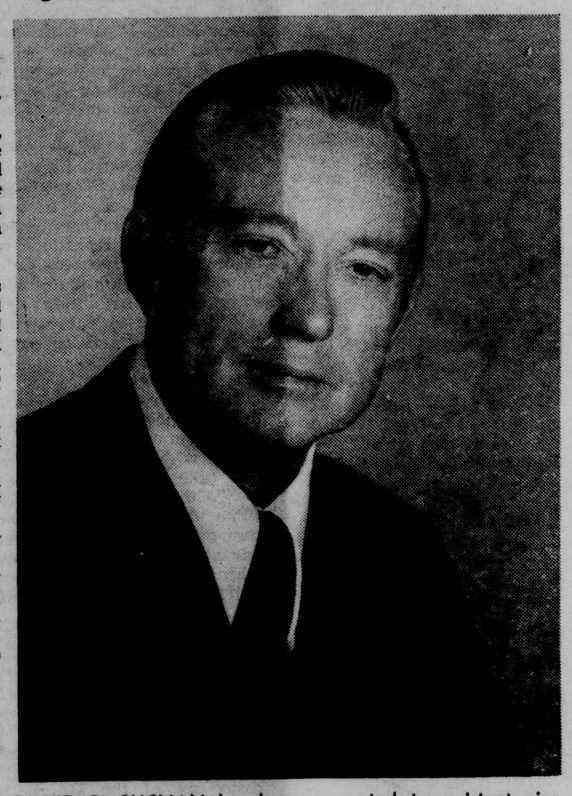

All Californians receiving public assistance are now eligible for 80 per cent of the homeowners' exemption on their property tax for 1976, provided they file a claim with their county assessor before 5 p.m. December 1, 1976.

George R. Reilly, member, State Board of Equalization, announced today that Assembly Bill 2972 (Boatwright) provides that persons who have been ineligible for homeowners' exemption since 1968 because they receive public assistance may now apply to their county assessor for the exemption.

Included are homeowners who receive Aid to the Potentially Self - Supporting Blind (APSB), Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), General Assistance (GA), and recipients of the gold-colored check from the U.S. Treasurer marked "State Payments Included," or any other assistance from the state, county or city.

Reilly cautioned that claim forms will not be mailed automatically. They may be obtained from the office of each county assessor. Claimants having questions about this new law or about their eligibility may also inquire at the assessor's office.

Chairman Supervisor Ward Starts Phil Watson Probe

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was sent to Los Angeles County Assessor Phillip E. Watson by the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Baxter Ward.)

Mr. Phillip E. Watson
Los Angeles County
Assessor
320 Hall of Administration
Los Angeles, Calif. 90012
Dear Assessor Watson:

Although we are not familiar with all the details, it is our understanding that you and your office annually stage a golfing tournament or tournaments held at various courses in this state and others.

When this issue was raised by a constituent over a year ago, there was a question as to the manner in which attending employees of your department were accomodated insofar as their working schedules were concerned. On inquiry, we were advised by your department that an "administrative" means of time-off had been arranged for your employees and that there would be no expense to County taxpayers.

We have now been told that some of your employees have attended at least one, and possibly more, of these golfing events by driving there in Los Angeles County vehicles. That question was not raised a year ago, but does merit attention now.

Further, additional questions have been brought forward about trophies, prizes, awards or gratuities for these golfing events, and whether or not they are provided by firms whose holdings in Los Angeles County are apparised by your office.

For example, in the case of a Las Vegas tournament held several years ago, it has been suggested that one of the major contributors of favors to your employees was the owner of a yacht which your department appraised at Long Beach. In another example at a more recent event, it has been reported that Sears, Roebuck and Company provided prizes and favors received by your employees, including such items as color television sets.

It would be helpful if you or your department would clarify these reported incidents and advise the Board of Supervisors in full detail as to:

1. All county personnel in attendance at your or your department's golfing functions during the last five years.
2. Travel costs for the above personnel.
3. Considerations of value, including prizes, favors, awards, trophies or in-kind donations, offered by firms or residents of Los Angeles County for these golfing events, that were not directly paid for by you or your department.

I am placing this request on the Board agenda for Tuesday, September 28, for consideration as a request from the full board.

Sincerely,
Baxter Ward

Devore Cut-off To Cut Vegas Time

The Interstate 15 Devore Freeway, which cuts off 14 miles for motorists between the Cajon Pass and Interstate 10 near Ontario, has been opened following ceremonies at the Sierra Avenue off-ramp.

"The various associations, such as the Devore, the L-15 and the Pomona Freeway Assn., have contributed years of hard work on this project," said San Bernardino County Supervisor Daniel D. Mikesell at the ceremonies yesterday.

Motorists traveling to high-desert resort areas now can use the Devore Freeway from Interstate 10 east of the Ontario Motor Speedway to connect with I-15 at the Cajon Pass, eliminating the need to go further eastward to I-15 in the Colton-Redlands area.

Hahn Seeks Extra Session Of Legislators

Governor Brown should call a special session of the legislature to convene Monday, November 15, and last through December 15 in order to overhaul the property tax structure in California, Supervisor. Kenneth Hahn urged recently.

"Immediate steps need to be taken by the legislature in order to implement tax reform for this year," Hahn said.

The first step which must be taken is to increase the homeowners property tax exemption to include the first $25,000 of market value, Hahn believes.

A second step is to remove welfare from the property tax — an action which would save more than $290 million per year.

Hahn also believes new ways of financing education must be found other than property taxes. A major court decision on how schools can be financed with the property tax is due this month.

"Removing the cost of welfare and of schools would cut property tax bills in half," Hahn said.

The $290 million annual welfare bill for property taxpayers is to cover the cost of administering the giant system.

"Local government has no say on how the system is administered or what benefits are granted," Hahn said, "because welfare is fully regulated by the federal

Boys and girls, ages seven through 15 years, representing the American Youth Soccer Organization as well as the YMCA Youth Soccer League will participate in the Tournament. Admission will be $1 per adult and 50 cents per child. Refreshments will be available. For further information, call Father Daniel McSweeney at 351-8951.

Flood Insurance Available To You

Flood Insurance would seem to be a must for Sierra Mader residents that live in the Los Angeles County Flood Control designated map area, especially in the Canyon Area of the community.

Property owners in Riverside and Imperial counties had about $27 million worth of federally subsidized flood insurance in force when recent flooding caused damage estimated to be in the vicinity of $63 million.

Recent rains caused heavy damage to many homes in the Woodland Drive area of our city, as well as other homes in the area. Leaders of our city have taken the steps necessary to qualify for the sale of federal flood insurance.

Homeowners in Sierra Madre can obtain up to $35,000 worth of coverage at a very nominal rate. Non-residential buildings can be covered up to $100,000, both have contents coverage also available.

Property owners can obtain further information, without obligation, from the Jerry Adkins Insurance Agency by just calling 355-1371 and talking with Jerry or Marion.

The fire burn of September 22, 1975, gives basic impetus that in the event of more heavy rains more flooding will be experienced in those areas. Federally subsidized Flood Insurance could help tremendously if you suffer damage.

'CITIZEN CPR' CLASSES TO BE OFFERED BY FIRE DEPT.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Tuesday, September 28, it was voted to provide funds for the purchase of films and instruction material to conduct an on-going "Citizen CPR" instruction class, under the direction of the Fire Department's Emergency Medical Technicians.

The course will be a one-night class, of four hours. It will consist of a film, lecture and instruction, mannequin manipulation and a written test. This will be a mini-course of those now being offered on a nine or ten hour basis and will have as its object to train as many persons as possible in our community.

"CPR" stands for cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and is a manual method for providing artificial respiration and circulation for uses in case of sudden death. It has been pointed out that at least one person in every household should possess this knowledge and the target of the Sierra Madre program will be exactly that.

The course will be offered every other Thursday night in the new Fire and Police Facility, 242 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., with class size being limited to 30. At least three instructors will be on hand to provide close supervision during the training sessions.

In addition the program will also be offered to any civic organization or group that wants to schedule a one-night course for their own group. Since enrollment must of necessity be limited classes will be open on a first-come first serve basis and will begin promptly at 6:30 and end at 10:30 p.m.

The effectiveness of this type of training has been shown by the "save" rate statistics in Seattle, where the program has been tried and proved. By teaching the average citizen CPR it is felt that these are the people that are on the scene when "sudden death" normally occur and can provide the stop-gap emergency steps needed immediately at the scene.

The first class has tentatively been scheduled for October 14 and every other Thursday thereafter, Oct. 28, Nov. 11, etc.

Confirming announcements will be forthcoming. It is pointed out that classes will be open to those in eighth grade and above, but the original emphasis will be to reach those persons living in households with known cardiac patients or in high susceptibility ages.

Cards will be issued to those successfully completing the course.

Enrollments will be handled by calling the Police Dispatcher, at 355-1414, and will be closed when the number reaches 30. Scheduling for oganizations will be handled directly through the fire department and can be done through the same telephone number.

To Reduce Taxes 75%

California Tax Revision Plan Proposed By Ward

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Baxter Ward has presented to the Board a proposal for a total revision in California tax law. The proposal which is designed to reduce residential property taxes and close the loopholes for business and the wealthy was received by the Board of Supervisors for study and analysis.

Ward's proposal would reduce the assessed valuation of owner - occupied homes from 25 per cent to 15 per cent and freeze the value until time of sale. It would also remove from the homeowners' property tax bill health, education and welfare. The effect overall of these steps will reduce the tax for a $60,000 home from $2,250 to $540. The proposal eliminates the need for the homeowner's exemption.

All other properties will be assesed at 30 per cent of fair market value but will also benefit from the elimination of health education and welfare from the local property tax burden.

The plan calls for a shift of school tax financing from the property taxpayer to the State sales tax with any shortfall in funds to be made up by general State tax revenues.

Health and welfare will be paid for exclusively by a State resources tax (a tax on non-residential property in California). Local government will continue to operate the programs under State guidance and funding.

The final element in Supervisor Ward's proposal is a major revision in California business and personal income tax. The proposal calls for elimination of current tax loopholes which permit high income individuals and major businesses to avoid paying their fair share of the tax burden. Business will no longer be able to report different incomes for federal and state taxing purposes. The major tax benefits granted industries over the years will be eliminated. Likewise, the exemption system for tax shelter purposes which permits high income Californians an endless series of deductions will stop. Personal income tax deductions will be permitted for charitable cash donations, medical expenses and interest and taxes paid on owner-occupied dwellings.

The tax credit system which is designed to assist the blind, the handicapped, and other disadvantaged groups will remain in effect.

The effect of closing loopholes will generate sufficient revenues to replace the funds lost throughout modification in property tax law.

Among the students graduating with "Honor" includes from Sierra Madre, Timothy C. Hoffman, Bachelor of Science in Management Science.

Citizen Proposes Marriage For M. Mouse Phone

"Marry me . . . so I can have my own Mickey Mouse telephone."

On that condition, a male caller recently proposed to a General Telephone employee after being told he was ineligible to buy the company's new Mickey Mouse phone set.

The proposal was made to a Monrovia office employee after she turned down the caller's request for the phone because he resided outside of General's service area. General presently sells the phone under exclusive marketing rights. The set eventually will be sold by other telephone companies.

"After all cajoling failed, he proposed matrimony," the unmarried employee said. "That's the most 'Mickey Mouse' proposal I've ever heard."

The 15-inch replica of the Walt Disney character is considered a collector's item and sells for $99.95, a price that does not deter Mickey Mouse fans from buying it. Since its introduction September 16, hundreds of sets have been sold in the southland.

The distribution represents the cities and counties shares of license fees and other revenue deposited in the Motor Vehicle License Fee Account during August, 1976.

New Law May Give Eligibility

Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson announced that persons who receive public assistance payments are now eligible for the Homeowner's Exemption.

"This new program has come about through passage of Assembly Bill 2972, which allows the Assessor to accept applications for the Homeowner's Exemption from persons who were previously ineligible for the exemption because they received an indirect subsidy on their property taxes through a public assistance program," Watson said.

The Assessor mentioned that the newly passed measure contains an urgency clause which means the statute takes effect immediately. "Although the April 15 filing deadline for 100 per cent credit on the exemption has already passed, persons who file by December 1, can still receive 80 per cent of the exemption," he said.

Watson reminded all persons who may be eligible that they still have to satisfy all other requirements for the Homeowner's Exemption.

To qualify, a person must own and occupy their residence as of the March 1, 1976 lien date.

In order to apply for the Homeowner's Exemption, persons should contact their nearest Assessor's Regional Office or they may apply in Room 225 of the Hall of Administration, 500 West Temple St., Los Angeles.

Letter To the Editor

Dear Editor:

November 2nd, Los Angeles County voters will have an unprecedented opportunity to make critically needed changes in their county government.

Propositions A & B will establish a County government which is more responsive, more efficient and more representative than the present outmoded system. Proposition A will create an independent, nonpartisan office of County Mayor who will serve as the Chief Executive of the County. Proposition B will reorganize the Board of Supervisors into a more representative nine member County Legislature, creating a system of checks and balances for the first time in County government.

The Public Commission on County Government, the League of Women Voters, Common Cause, the Greater Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Women For, and the San Gabriel Valley Association of Cities and the City Board of Directors of Pasadena are all strongly urging the passage of these two Propositions.

The Committee would greatly apreciate your editorial support of Proposition A & B.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions or if you need additional material.

RTD Receives $43 Millions

The Southern California Rapid Transit District will be the beneficiary of a $43 million grant released by the Federal Government, Congressman Glenn M. Anderson (D-Harbor City) announced recently.

According to Anderson, the funds are from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, a division of the Department of Transportation. Although they are being allocated to the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG), they will be used to cover operating costs in the Los Angeles - Long Beach metropolitan area by the Rapid Transit District.

Tax On Cigarettes Given To Agencies

State Controller Kenneth Cory announced the distribution of $7,263,713 to counties and cities as the September apportionment of cigarette tax.

Los Angeles County received $177,670, and Sierra Madre got $2,532. The 58 counties' share was $1,417,723 and the cities' share totaled $5,846,190.

This distribution represents 30 per cent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of August, 1976, less the state's administrative costs of $27,027.

12th Annual Fair Set For Oct. 16

Sidewalks of the Lake - Mariposa area in Altadena will be ablaze with color on Saturday, October 16, when the Altadena Chamber of Commerce stages its 12th annual Art Fair. It will be a time for a walk along the streets of the community to spend moments appreciating a painting or the handiwork of an Altadena, Pasadena or Southland artist or craftsman.

Among art forms to be displayed are oil paintings, water colors, pastels, ceramics, weaving, metal work, sculptures, jewelry and photography.

A unique feature of the event is that it is non-juried, and is open to all age groups. Top artists in many fields display their work and promising young artists appear with some of their first pieces. Many residents and fanciers from surrounding areas have set aside the entire day to tour the colorful show at their leisure and often are able to purchase fine work at attractive prices.

Artists who wish to participate may send their name and address along with their $5 registration fee, plus $1 for each additional media, to Altadena Chamber of Commerce, 2526 N. El Molino, Altadena 91001.

7 Students Reach Semi-Finals For Merit Scholarships

In a special announcement, Superintendent Ramon C. Cortines reported that three students from Blair, seven from Muir and three from Pasadena High were among the semi-finalists in the 1977 Merit Scholarship competition. These students, named as follows, are among the top one-half per cent of all the students in the nation:

Blair High School: Edward H. Biery, Richard E. Esbenshade and Jacob Frenkel.

Muir High School: David R. Aladjem, Lowell J. Bennett, Steven M. Haussler, Kerry Ronay, William S. Matthews, Deborah G. Robinson and Wendy S. Tajima.

Pasadena High: Merula D. Franzgrote, Charles G. Merrill and David E. White.

Superintendent Cortines said that the Pasadena Unified School District was indeed proud and honored at the accomplishments of these young people who deserve the highest commendations, along with their parents, families and teachers who have all helped to make this possible.

Therefore, Hahn believes the federal government should pay the full cost rather than local property taxpayers.

The Board of Supervisors officially has gone on record asking for a special session of the legislature, and more than 200,000 persons in the San Fernando Valley are urging a special session.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Panama Canal issue has been grossly overplayed by the news media. Besides, those who condemn the United States ownership in Panama condone the illegal seizure and annexation of the Baltic States — Lithuania, Latvia, and Etonia — by the Soviet Union in 1940. Since the Soviet Union wanted to obtain the ice-free ports of Latvia, Liepaja and Ventspils, the Russian troops occupied the Baltic States.

The history of Panama is a very pale one, to say the very least. Unfortunately, the U.S. citizens are not well informed about the glorious history of Lithuania. It should be noted that medieval Lithuania saved Europe from the Tartar Yoke. In the fourteenth century the boundaries of Lithuania stretched from the Baltic Sea to the Black Sea. Later Lithuania was united with Poland. Lithuania was annexer by Russia in 1795. The independence of Lithuania was restored in 1918 and it lasted up to 1940.

Those who try to achieve the transfer of the United States territory — the narrow Panama Canal Zone — to Panama should likewise ask for the restoration of the independence of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia.

A Woman Ought To Know . .

Send questions to: Anita Miller, chairperson, California Commission on the Status of Women, 926 J Street, Suite 1014, Sacramento, CA 95814.

Dear Anita,

I hear that new federal regulations will eliminate certain discriminatory practices against girls in education. Could you explain how education of my children would be changed?

— M. P., Los Angeles

Dear M. P.,

There are exceptions, but Title IX of the 1972 Education Act generally bars sex discrimination in any academic, extracurricular, research, occupational training or other educational program which is federally funded.

Major provisions provide both boys and girls new options for career training and counseling. For instance, all courses must be open to both, including physical education, industrial, business, vocational, technical, home economics and music courses.

Tests and other counseling materials cannot be biased. Your daughter and son should be encouraged to enter any field in which they are qualified. This is potentially a break-through in changing attitudes, since girls have not traditionally been counseled to enter male-dominated fields such as medicine and law.

Title IX does not specifically address sexism in textbooks, but many organizations are recognizing the harm done to girls by portraying them as helpless, passive and insignificant. American Psychological Association has found that women's self-confidence is weakened by reading about women as servants, sex objects and martyrs. Boys, on the other hand, suffer by being taught to over-achieve, and to stifle their emotions and sensitivity.

As schools eliminate sexism, both boys and girls should benefit from the value placed on developing minds and bodies of all students.

— Anita Miller

Dear Anita,

My mother is now a "sweet old lady," but during World War II she was a welder. I'm a clerical worker, but I'd like to be a construction worker like my mother. What are the chances in the economy today?

— J. M., Burbank

Dear J. M.,

Good for your mother! During World War II nobody asked whether it was "unfeminine" to do construction work. It had to be done so women did it.

It won't be easy for you to get in, but the effort will pay off — in money and other rewards. Unions are paying skilled crafts workers three times the beginning pay of a clerical person.

Many women find construction work less tedious than office jobs. They sense a lot of satisfaction in seeing a structure go up that they helped build.

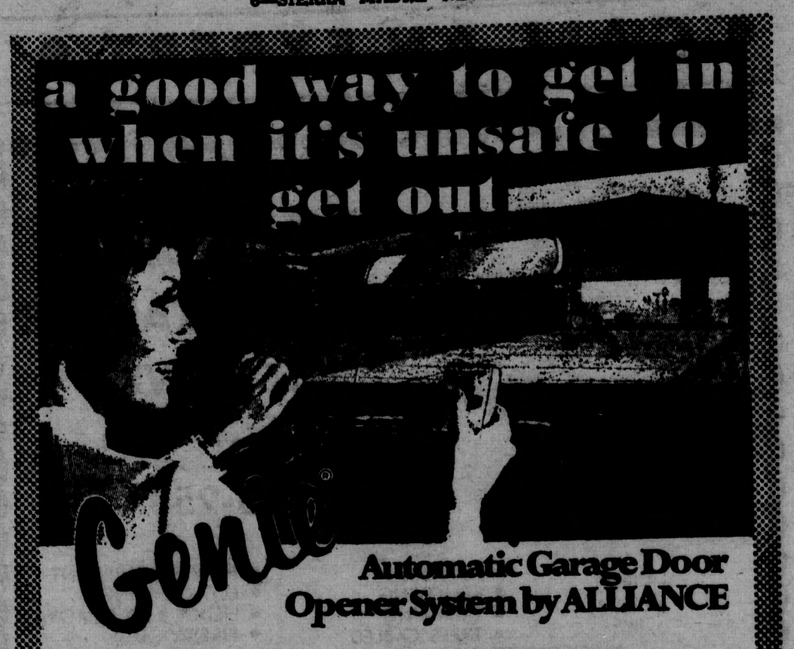

Modern technology has brought nearly all construction jobs within the capability of women, and anti-discrimination laws enforced by the federal government are breaking down barriers. The U.S. Department of Interior increased its women workers on the Trans-Alaska pipeline from 21 to 1,702.

In California, women apprentices have increased from 31 to 267. CETA in San Diego, working with the Center for Women's Studies and Services, trained about 40 women as shipyard welders.

The Commission has worked with the California Division of Apprenticeship Standards to help women move into apprenticeship programs. You can contact your local Joint Apprenticeship Council for information on your locality, write to the California Division of Apprenticeship Standards, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, CA 9401, for a complete list of councils.

It's certainly worth a try!

Editorially Speaking

The People Must Know

By Howard Jarvis
Chairman, United Organizations of Taxpayers, Inc

We read all the time about negligence of public officials and public employees resulting in damage suits against the taxpayers. The taxpayers must dig up hundreds of millions of dollars every year to pay for these blunders of officialdom.

Yuba City, in California, is now faced with legal claims of $41.1 millions of dollars due to a school bus crash which killed 29 people. The claim is that a worn belt controlling the bus air brake system caused the accident.

Yuba City claims the responsibility is that of the company that furnished the bus. However it is likely no company could pay such claim, and that some Judge will rule Yuba City, at least had joint responsibility. So a $5 worn belt will cost the taxpayers the settlement, whether taxpayers pay in insurance premiums or in cash to the claimants.

Such claims, if upheld, could bankrupt Yuba City. They could also bankrupt the taxpayers of Yuba City, one way or another. Maybe the government should not be in the busing business.

The Congress still votes for much higher spending. Both the House and Senate have approved a 1976-77 spending bill of $413.2 billion, $14 billion more than President Ford had recommended. This spending will project a $50 billion deficit, which means the country will go further into debt at the rate of $1 billion (1000 million) every week for the next year.

Senate Budget Committee Chairman, Edmund D. Muskie (D) of Maine said," it is an economic recovery budget designed to produce jobs and restrain inflation."

How going into debt a billion dollars a week will restrain inflation, or produce one job is beyond my comprehension. If this premise is really true, then the debt should be increased to $10 billion a week, and this action would make every person in the nation millionaires and no one would have to work at all.

On the other hand Senator Muskie might be right. Today every working American must work four months of every year just to pay his taxes. With Muskie's new budget, all working Americans will have to work five months to pay their taxes.

In most political minds today, especially in the Congress, this is the real way to decrease unemployment. So, we are on the way to utopia. Prosperity for all is "just around the corner." Big government and little people is not the answer.

The Right of Property: The right of separate property is founded in the nature of men and things. As society grows, the establishment of that right becomes highly important to the existence, tranquility and virtue of civilized life. For man is intended for action, and useful and skillful industry is the soul of an active life. But industry should have its just reward. That reward is property, for property is the result of useful industry . . . and exclusive property multiplies the produce of the earth.

Who would cultivate the soil and sow the grain if he had no special interest in the harvest? Who would rear and tend the flocks and herds if they could be taken from him by anyone who should come to demand them? By exclusive property, the means and subsistence, for all, are secured and preserved. What belongs to no one is wasted by everyone. What belongs to one man in particular is the object of his economy and care. Exclusive property prevents disorder and promotes peace. Without it society would be always disturbed by fierce competition for the possession and enjoyment of things, and there would be no rules of adjustment for the distribution of the goods necessary to life itself. (This was written by James Wilson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and an original Justice of the United States Supreme Court).

The founders of our nation had had long experience in Europe. They had seen the result of the confiscation of people's private property by governments. They had experienced these hardships and confiscations personally, and were determined that private property was a right that all free men must have the right to exercise, if the country was to remain free.

They even went so far as to write that the right of life, liberty and property was inalienable to all free Americans. They considered this property right to be the very foundation upon which all other freedoms rested.

Today the freedom to own private property is being abused by government itself. The method of abuse is confiscatory taxation. Today in California many people are being forced by excessive property taxation to give up their homes and property to the state. I consider this a direct violation of the federal constitution, and it's about time the property owners joined in a class action suit, to test the validity of the power of government to appropriate private property for taxes.

Many of the founding fathers held the view that government was, in fact, the true enemy of the people. Surely a government that wrongfully confiscates private property is an enemy of the people.

Sierra Madre Sales Tax For Septmber $6,455.40

More than $107 million was distributed to California cities and counties this week from the Steptember allocation of sales and use tax receipts, George R. Reilly, member, State Board of Equalization has announced.

California cities received $68.9 million and the counties $14.1 million for a combined cities and counties total of $83 million. The counties also received $20.6 million from the one-quarter per cent local sales and use tax for the county local transportation fund.

The city of Sierra Madre will receive $6,455.40 as its share of the $68.8 million and the county of Los Angeles will receive $1,828,538.77 plus $6,260,520.19 from the one-quarter per cent county local transportation fund.

indeed hard for me to believe . . . That Sierra Madre is finally going to build a new City Hall. Some of us have been waiting for this since the year 1956, and this time I am as sure as shooting that it is coming and coming fast. It is my bet that by this time next year we will all be situated in the new building and doing business as usual, but without fear of the roof tumbling in on us.

— CT —

Personally I feel that this will be a great big boost to the citizens of Sierra Madre, who will point to the new building with great pride . . . Taxwise, regardless of what you are told will never be noticed . . . Actually it is very small and will never be listed on your tax bill. In many instances it will be far less than a pack of cigarettes, other instances a bottle of beer or a candy bar and far less than the cost of television, but most of you will have to wait and see. We have now had the new Police and Fire Facility, and I will bet a pluged dollar that no one knows from whence the money is coming and to date over $100,000 has been paid on it.

— CT —

Sunday, October 17, this newspaper was 70 years old. October 17, 1906, Mr. Cowles brought forth the first Sierra Madre News. Sierra Madre had been without a newspaper for quite some time, and was located on Esperanza Avenue next door to the residence of Mr. S. R. G. Twycross, and has been in continuous publication since that time.

— CT —

Few, if any, businesses now in existence in Sierra Madre can boast of this accomplishment. Hartman Pharmacy will come the closest to it, and they can add a little to it. They have been in business somewhere around 67 years and the only store in our city which has been under continuous ownership of one family.

— CT —

Of course there are a great many that will come around the 40 year period, such as Roess Market which is in its 38th year, and Byron Hopper Jeweler in his 37th year and probably others that just elude my memory at the present, anyway, we wished ourselves happy birthday and then went on with the days work ahead . . . It's easier that way, and you do not have to make excuses for what you did or did not do during the past 70 years.

— CT —

Since we have one of the first editions, given to us and framed in 1944 by W. H. Humphries, we find that the first news stories are all about the new equipment that was installed in the plant of the new newspaper . . . I just wouldn't doubt that we have most of that equipment still in operation . . . At least one of our presses has a 1906 date on it and it is still running in first class shape, in fact it is standing up much better than I am, and I was originated in 1912, but again that's life for you, some of us can stand up under the pressures of life and some of us just naturally waste away.

— CT —

Of course the month of October brings back many memories of my early days back in the State of Kansas. I was always a great hunter and loved to hunt ducks, pheasants, quail, dove, and sometimes when the seasons were over rabbits, but one thing I remember and remember very well was the local Turkey Shoots that was put on by clubs and organiaztions. I was always on hand for those and one I remember very distinctly, and I do believe it was the last one that I attended before I left the State of Kansas.

— CT —

This was in the year 1946 when I attended the Annual Turkey Shoot of the local Chamber of Commerce held at a blue rock range in that city. When the day's shooting was over it was found that I had won 32 turkeys. I remember well that they told me that I would never be allowed to shoot on that range again, even after I offered to throw rocks at the flying birds.

— CT —

No, I didn't take the turkeys. If I remember correctly, I believe I gave them to the First Christian Church of our area who saw to it that 32 families in the area were well treated for Thanksgiving . . . It was fun though, and I might add that I couldn't hit the broad side of a barn today with a 30-0-30 . . . Thirty years can make a great difference in the way a man holds a gun.

— CT —

Getting ready for the Christmas Holiday business, a large department store in the Bay Area placed an advertisement in the local newspaper for a man to "retail canaries" during the season and the following conversation was carried on by a man and the personnel officer of the store:

Strategy

It's Tim's move, and he is taking a long time thinking it over. In chess, if you're a good player, you don't play quickly. If you do, your opponent may outwit you.

Military strategy, they say, is based on the rules of chess. So are many of the "higher games" in business and finance. Yet, when it comes to life itself, the rules of chess apply in only a limited way. In life, you can't be totally objective. You can't exist on logic alone.

The Church teaches that though we surely need logic in order to live successfully, we also need compassion, tolerance, love, understanding, and the strength that comes with faith.

Although life is not a game, we must have the help and strength of the Church to discover those rules that will determine our ultimate destiny.

A clever thief took an ingenius way to annex two fairly good tires from J. Milton Steinberger Sunday evening. With boundless faith in the honesty of Sierra Madreans, Mr. Steinberger left his car parked on the west side of Park Avenue close to a hedge on his home property. Working quietly someone took both tires and wheels from the side of the car which was sheltered by the hedge, so that the theft went unnoticed probably for several hours.

In addition to heavy penalties imposed by local courts, motorists exceeding the 35-mile speed limit will lose their gasoline ration books once they are issued, according to a statement issued by H. F. Camp, regional administrator of the OPA, Division of Motor Transportation.

A stork shower was given by Mrs. Joseph Scalzo and Mrs. Joseph Paonessa at the home of the latter, 95 Lowell Avenue, on September 30 for Mrs. Carlton Scalzo. Pink and white flowers set a background for the gifts which were presented in a pink-lined bassenet. Those who attended were: Mrs. Harrison Bains, Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. M. Bains, Mrs. Thomas Solury, Mrs. Frederic Scalzo, Mrs. H. Kohl, Mrs. Jack Kohl, Mrs. Dale Langley, Mrs. Jack Butler, Mrs. Thomas Scalzo, Mrs. William Lees, Mrs. Egbern, Miss K. Hill, Miss J. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Paulos, former residents of Long Beach have purchased a home at 642 North Auburn Avenue and plan to reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCullagh of East Montecito Street received word this week of the birth of a granddaughter in Shenandoah, Ia. Parents of the child are Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Gee. The City Council Tuesday night tentatively set the afternoon of Sunday, October 20, as the date for a free open house at the new pool. If it isn't raining or snowing at that time, bring your bathing suit. It probably will be the only free dip you'll get.

Sierra Mesa now has only the first three grades, while Sierra Madre School contains grades four through six. Board members pointed out that new classrooms at Sierra Mesa will relieve pressure on Sierra Madre School, thus passage of the bond issue is of significance to residents of all sections of Sierra Madre.

Sierra Madre Police are investigating a $2,300 burglary which occurred last week in an apartment on Sierra Madre Blvd. Missing was a string of pearls valued at $250, a woman's lapel watch, $150; a white gold ring, $100; a pastel mink stole, valued at $1,300, and two passports.

Kay Wheeler reports the Carmel and the Monterey peninsula are beautiful as ever; she spent a couple of weeks up that way in connection with a visit to her daughter.

Joe Banis, Jr. of 420 E. Montecito, has graduated to being a coach for the newly spotlighted Sierra Madre Swim Team, which aims in turn to splotlight the hometown with upgraded water achievements. His sister Susan and younger brother Dan are team members; brother Dave swims for La Salle.

Happy, of Happy's Liquor, who is a golf enthusiast, tells this story that he overheard recently when he made a business trip into Los Angeles:

— CT —

Seems that there was a little excitementt on one business corner and as Hap approached he found two Spanish detectives standing over the body of a man whose name was Juan Gonzales.

— CT —

"How was he shot?" inquired Happy.

— CT —

"I think eet was a golf gun," said the Spanish detective.

— CT —

Now Happy knows a lot about golf but this one had him where it hurt, so he asked: "But what is a golf gun?"

— CT —

"I don't know exactly," said the detective, "but eet sure made a hole in Juan."

In closing the column for the week let me tell you about one tax that really "takes the rag off the bush" so to speak, and that one is the "inheritance tax" . . . My mother, for example, after working side by side with dad, now has to pay taxes (on which taxes have already been paid) as "inheritance"! Government officials move in . . . tie up bank accounts, anything they can get their hands on. We call it downright "thievery" . . . . We aren't saying anything about passing it on to children who have never really earned it, but for husband - wife routine . . . That's robbery as sure as a bank robber comes into your bank.

— CT —

You can beat the Government at this game if you do it now . . . After you are dead and gone they take over . . . Check it out with your attorney . . . . Your wife may have to give up a few of her constitutional rights, but is she trusts you, then you and your attorney can work it out where hundreds of dollars can be saved, I hope, I hope, I hope.

DOES YOUR FICTITIOUS NAME STATEMENT EXPIRE THIS YEAR?

A New Law

All Fictitious Business Name Statements filed or refiled during the year 1971 will expire on December 31, 1976. If you filed your statement during 1971, California law requires you to prepare a new statement and file it with the County Clerk before December 31, 1976. If the information in your new statement is different from the information which was in your 1971 statement, the law also requires that the new statement be published in a legally qualified newspaper. The law provides that "the newspaper selectd for the publication of the statement should be one that circulates in the area where the business is to be conducted." (Sec. 17917 — Business and Professions Code)

Free Help From Your Newspaper

As a service to local businesses, this newspaper will make avaiable at no charge all necessary forms for refiling and we will refile your 1976 statement with the County Clerk, also at no charge. Bring a copy of your 1971 Fictitious Business Name Statement to our office. Our public notice department will assist you in completing the new form and will forward it to the County Clerk via our representative in the Los Angeles Civic Center. If you have misplaced your 1971 statement, we will arrange for a search of the County Clerk's file to extract information which must be transferred to the 1976 form and to determine whether republication will be necessary.

The Cost

The County Clerk's statutory refiling fee is $10.00. If publication is necessary, our advertising charge is $25.00. If there is no publication, your cost is only $10.00. If you want us to handle filing for you, please bring us your $10.00 check made payable to "Los Angeles County Clerk." Our forms and filing services are free, as explained above.

INVESTMENTS IN GROWTH STOCKS

by Thomas O'Hara

Q. — I'm always attracted to a company that splits its stocks. Recently, though I read an article by a college economist who said that stock splits are wrong and a disservice to the company and to the stockholders in particular.

A. — I didn't see the article you mention. My own observations of stock splits are that they are more likely to help than to hurt the corporation and the share owners. I receive a number of requests for names of companies that are about to split their stock — apparently on the theory that a split presages an increase in the stock's price. Prospective investors should understand that the mere act of splitting he shares does not have effect on the basic value of the stock itself.

On the other hand, it should be pointed out that the splitting of a stock does attract investor attention and probably puts it into the price range of more people. I can see nothing wrong with such a move which might broaden the ownership of the company.

A good argument in favor of stock splits can be made in the case of such firms as IBM, for instance. If IBM had never had stock splits, a share bought in 1946 would now be priced at more than $3,000. The result of this would be that there would not be nearly as many people who could afford to own IBM shares.

"Nothing wrong with that," you might say, and — to a point — you would be right. However, it would seriously affect the marketability of the stock. Suppose someone who bought 100 shares of IBM in 1946 now wanted to sell them: he might have to look long and hard for a customer who could pay his price. The result would be harmful for the owner — and I'm sure that corporations don't want to work that kind of a hardship on their stockholders.

Stock splits also serve another purpose: they alert the public to the fact that the company in question has improved earnings to the extent of causing the stock price to rise. Few companies, if any, split their stock when they expect earnings to go down.

Q. — I own a Toledo, Cincinnati and St. Louis gold bond. Does it have any value?

A. — When you have a security of a company apparently no longer in existence, I suggest that you write to the bank listed on he certificate as registrar or transfer agent. Or you could write to the security administrator in the state in which the firm was incorporated.

Q. — Would you recommend buying and selling options? My broker says this can be very profitable.

A. — From the reports I have seen, selling options on stock you own has been profitable for a good number of individuals. The only complaints I have heard have been from individuals where the options they sold were exercised this past year when the market moved up sharply.

For the individuals who buy options, most of the individuals I've heard from have had losses. For those who actively trade options, the range of reports has been from quite good earnings to moderate losses.

It would seem like you should enter this field slowly and with a moderate amount of your own funds until you've thoroughly tested your own skill and that of your advisor if you have one. Dealing in options is more of a speculative procedure than an investment process.

The Right To Die Discussed Oct. 11

The Right to die will be the discussion at the Crown City Toastmistress Club on Monday evening at the Women's City Club, 160 N. Oakland St. in Pasadena at 6:30 p.m. The president, Mrs. Cherrie Leighton will preside.

Death is a word people shy away from, yet in the opinion of Doctor Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, a Chicago Psychiatrist, and authority in dying, ". . . . it is beyond the shadow of a doubt that there is a life after death." Her opinion on this subject has been affirmed by other noted Thanatologists. According to Dr. Ross some of those brought back to life report that they have experiencer a feeling of lightnesses and calm as they left the body, a lifting away of pain, suffering in all forms. And these persons had been declared clinically dead.

This subject is distinctly different from euthanasia or suicide.

A book by Milton Heifetz, M.D., also gives much information on the subject, "The Right to Die" (published by Medallion Books, $1.95).

A bill is now on Gov. Brown's desk awaiting his signature to make it a legal right for a person still mentally sound to decide for himself if he wishes to be kept alive by artificial means when all hope of recovery has been given up by his attending physicians.

Speakers for the evening will be Marjory Graner of Altadena and May Britt Pederson of Arcadia, followed by a round table discussion.

Toastmistress for the evening will be the former ITC president, Mrs. Grace Payne Hall of Altadena.

Reservations must be in before October 10, by calling 794-7068.

Garden Club Meets Oct. 11

A talk and slide program on vegetable and container gardening will be the first presentation of the new season at the Sierra Madre Garden Club meeting on October 11. Kay Conway and Sue Reynolds, young college students with enthusiasm and know-how, will offer advice and show proper techniques. Both spent their summer vacations working in community gardens and lecturing on their methods.

After the program there will be a general business meeting featuring a question and answer period devoted to garden problems. There will be a door prize.

The Garden Club meets on the second Monday of the month at the Congregational Church, 170 W. Sierra Madre Boulevard. Dinner, for which reservations are necessary, is served at 6:30; the program starts immediately after at 7:15. For dinner reservations call Betty Hoffman at 355-1598. For further information call the president, Bud Murray at 355-0440. All are welcome to attend.
